to an ever increasing extent the business of america is the business of war but although americans live in the shadow of a war economy few understand the full extent of its power and influence thanks to christian sorensen s deeply researched book into the military industrial complex that envelops our society such ignorance can no longer be an excuse andrew cockburn author of kill chain the rise of the high tech assassins a devastating account of american militarism brilliantly depicted and exhaustively researched in an authoritative manner sorensen s book is urgent fascinating reading richard falk i m adding christian sorensen s new book understanding the war industry to the list of books i think will convince you to help abolish war and militaries david swanson world without war this meticulously researched book lays out in painstaking detail exactly how our nation has been captured by a war industry that profits from endless conflict and pursues profit at all costs it will shock you infuriate you and hopefully inspire you medea benjamin co director code pink the war industry infests the american economy like a cancer sapping its strength and distorting its creativity while devouring its treasure stunning in the depth of its research understanding the war industry documents how the war industry commands the other two sides of the military industrial congressional triangle it lays bare the multiple levers enabling the vast and proliferating war industry to wield undue influence exploiting financial and legal structures while co-opting congress academia and the media spiked with insights into how corporate boardrooms view the troops overseas bases and warzones it assiduously delineates how corporations reap enormous profits by providing a myriad of goods and services devoted to making war which must be rationalized and used if the game is to go on advanced weaponry drones and nukes invasive information technology space based weapons and special operations with contracts stuffed with ongoing and proliferating developmental tertiary and maintenance products for all of it since its launch in 2009 this annual has rapidly established a reputation as an authoritative but affordable summary of all that has happened in the naval world in the previous twelve months it combines the standing features of regional surveys with one off major articles on noteworthy new ships and other important developments besides the latest warship projects it also looks at wider issues of importance to navies such as aviation and electronics and calls on expertise from around the globe to give a balanced picture of what is going on and to interpret its significance special features for this year include a survey of current and future torpedo developments an in depth study of the royal new zealand navy a look at how the royal navy is coping after the strategic defense and security review plus analyses of significant new warship classes the japanese hyuga class dhh concept the usns spearhead joint high speed vessels danish iver huitfeldt class frigates and german aip technology as demonstrated in the recent type 212a submarines for anyone with an interest in contemporary naval affairs whether an enthusiast or a defence professional this annual has become required reading since the passage of the civil rights act virtually all companies have antidiscrimination policies in place although these policies represent some progress women and minorities remain underrepresented within the workplace as a whole and even more so when you look at high level positions they also tend to be less well paid how is it that discrimination remains so prevalent in the american workplace despite the widespread adoption of policies designed to prevent it one reason for the limited success of antidiscrimination policies argues lauren b edelman is that the law regulating companies is broad and ambiguous and managers therefore play a critical role in shaping what it means in daily practice often what results are policies and procedures that are largely symbolic and fail to dispel long standing patterns of discrimination even more troubling these meanings of the law that evolve within companies tend to eventually make their way back into the legal domain inconspicuously influencing lawyers for both plaintiffs and defendants and even judges when courts look to the presence of antidiscrimination policies and personnel manuals to infer fair practices and to the presence of diversity training programs without examining whether these policies are effective in combating discrimination and achieving racial and gender diversity they wind up condoning practices that deviate considerably from the legal ideals
