shiach examines the ways in which labour was experienced and represented between 1890 and 1930 there is a critical tradition in literary and historical studies that sees the impact of modernity on human labour in terms of intensification and alienation shiach however explores a series of efforts to articulate the relations between labour and selfhood within modernism through readings of sylvia pankhurst and d h lawrence shiach shows how labour underpins the political and textual innovations of the period this study will be of interest to literary and cultural scholars alike delmer daves 1904 1977 was an american screenwriter director and producer known for his dramas and western adventures most notably broken arrow and 3 10 to yuma despite the popularity of his films there has been little serious examination of daves s work filmmaker bertrand tavernier has called daves the most forgotten of american directors and to date no scholarly monograph has focused on his work in the films of delmer daves visions of progress in mid twentieth century america author douglas horlock contends that the director s work warrants sustained scholarly attention examining all of daves s films as well as his screenplays scripts that were not filmed and personal papers horlock argues that daves was a serious distinctive and enlightened filmmaker whose work confronts the general conservatism of hollywood in the mid twentieth century horlock considers daves s films through the lenses of political and social values race and civil rights and gender and sexuality ultimately horlock suggests that daves s work through its examination of bigotry and irrational fear and depiction of institutional and personal morality and freedom presents a consistent innovative and progressive vision of america the stage lives of animals examines what it might mean to make theatre beyond the human in this stunning collection of essays una chaudhuri engages with the alternative modes of thinking feeling and making art offered by animals and animality bringing insights from theatre practice and theory to animal studies as well as exploring what animal studies can bring to the study of theatre and performance as our planet lives through what scientists call the sixth extinction and we become ever more aware of our relationships to other species chaudhuri takes a highly original look at the animal imagination of well known plays performances and creative projects including works by caryl churchill rachel rosenthal marina zurkow edward albee tennessee williams eugene ionesco covering over a decade of explorations a wide range of writers and many urgent topics this volume demonstrates that an interspecies imagination deeply structures modern western drama this collection of essays seeks to present articles that examine the early ventures of the 1960s and 1970s in the progressive theatre of identity with a new contemporary view considering the intersection of race gender ethnicity economic class and sexual orientation in 1964 edward albee and his producers richard barr and clinton wilder produced funnyhouse of a negro by adrienne kennedy and dutchman by amiri baraka then leroi jones and by 1968 had produced the seminal gay drama the boys in the band by mart crowley no other major american playwright of this period including thornton wilder arthur miller tennessee williams or william inge produced the plays of their junior colleagues with a specific focus on difference and diversity for most scholars these productions and albee s involvement in them are a somewhat obscure footnote in theatre history but they remain important for their early support of diverse voices even as albee s career was skyrocketing he and his producers had begun a producing project that sowed the seeds of diversity equity and inclusion in a decidedly anti racist decolonizing and progressive move that still resonates powerfully today while this book is not a hagiography and does not intend to paint albee as without his own critical failings in terms of diversity in his own work and that of others this volume of theatre history dramatic literature and performance essays takes a detailed critical approach to albee s engagement with other initiating plays productions producers theatre companies theatre artists and performances in the united states that pushed the dial toward difference and diversity in the late 1950s through the late 1970s beginning the formations of new theatres of identity across the united states this volume will be of great interest to students and scholars in theatre and performance studies
